Principal's Message

It gives me great pride and pleasure to see how my dear students of the Political Science department of Maheshtala College under the able tutelage of their teachers have studied, prepared and presented this extremely thought-provoking poster presentation on “Some Social and Environmental Issues”, defying the challenges of the present Covid crisis.

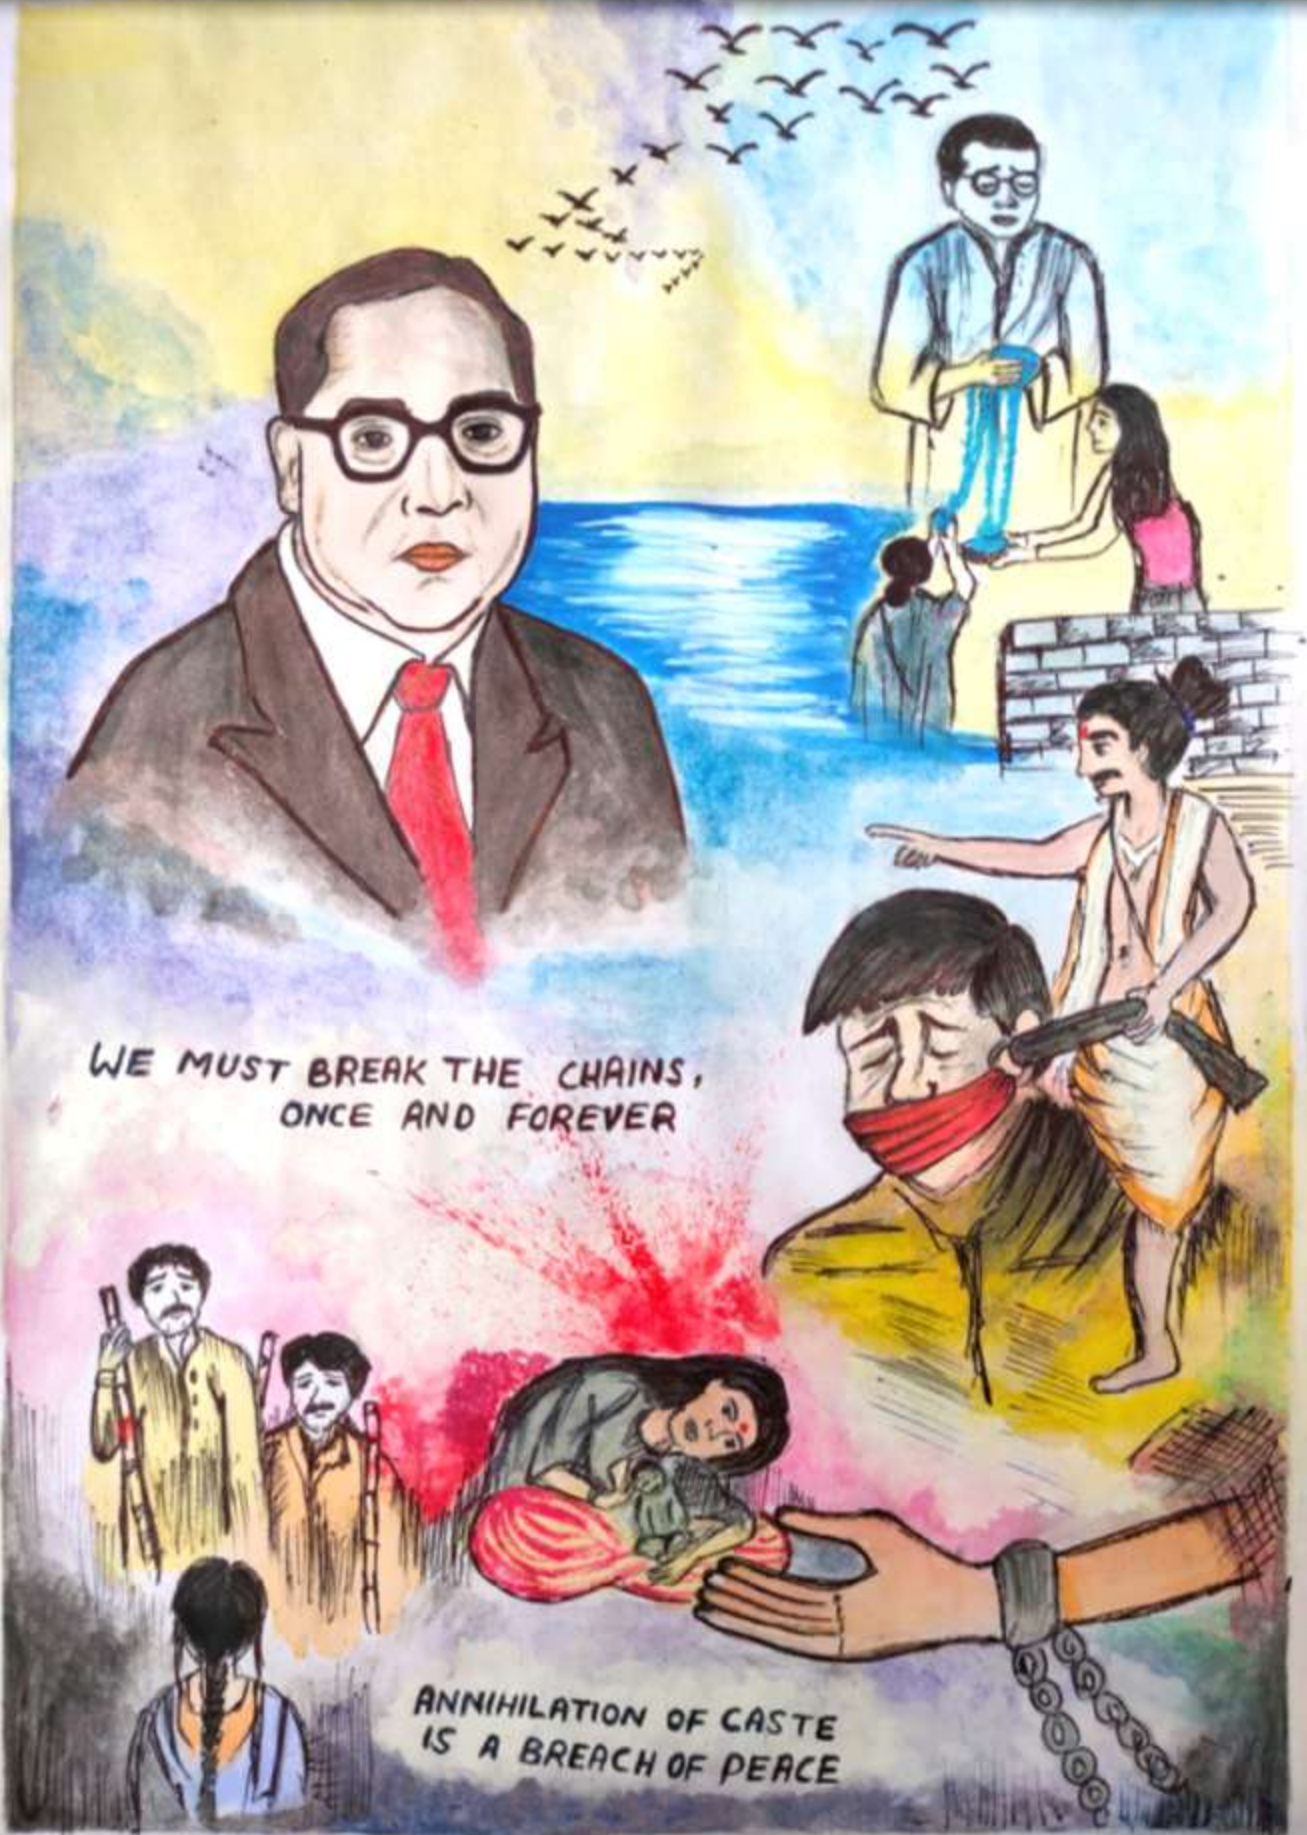

Their attempt to understand and represent some aspects of socio-political and environmental issues that determine the structure, nature and influence the Indian political system are really praise-worthy and their pictorial responses deserve rich accolades.

I look forward to more such remarkable innovations from my students of the department. I am confident that these small steps today on their part in perceiving the subtle nuances of Indian society and politics will one day favour them with substantial success, and I wish them all the best in their endeavours, present and future.
